The Colunar Fishing Tables of John Alden Knight will begin daily publication in Hope Star Saturday. The year 1956 marks the 23rd year since the Solunar Tables were first made public in the outdoor magazines. Also, it is the beginning of the 10th year of the publication of weekly schedules from the Solunar Tables in the newspapers of the country.

While a great many fishermen and hunters throughout the United States and Canada are familiar with the Colunar Tables and know how to use them to best advantage, there are about as many others who are not so familiar with them and who write in asking questions. We have tried to select the most common of these questions. Here are the answers, as well as we can shape them.

What are the Colunar Tables? The Colunar Tables are the sportsman's schedule of the times of the daily cycle of activity and feeding periods of all wildlife. Activity will begin, as a rule, at the times scheduled and continue for anywhere from half an hour to three hours thereafter.

What is the cause of these Solunar Periods?

To be honest with you, we can't answer this one completely. We know that these activities and feeding periods among wildlife — fish and game, not to mention reptiles, insects, etc. — are in rhythm with daily moon and sun positions in relation to the earth. That is how we figure out the schedule in advance.

We think we know why this is true. However, until we are definitely positive that we are familiar with the entire process, we feel that it would be better to say simply that we are not sure and let it go at that.

How are the Solunar Tables useful to fishermen and hunters?

This one we can answer. First off, you know perfectly well that you don't have good fishing or top-notch shooting every day you go afield. Some days the fish are more responsive and the game is more plentiful than on other days.

By knowing in advance, each day of the year, when to expect all wildlife to be active and feeding, your chances for good sport are much better than if you simply go out blindly and trust to luck.

Form the habit of planning each day in the open with the aid of your Solunar Tables. That way you have a distinct advantage over the fellow who is content to start out and hope for the best.

Do the Solunar Tables work just as well in salt water as they do in fresh water?

Yes, they do. But remember — boat captains use the schedules to find better fishing for their patrons. Moreover, several commercial fisheries are using the Solunar Tables with good results.

Do the Solunar Tables "work" on some days and not on others?

No. To a man who is a good observer and who is familiar with the effects of the Solunar Periods on wild life, response to a Solunar Period is quite evident every day, regardless of conditions. After all, activity among wildlife from day to day and from time to time during each day is comparative.

Don't make the mistake of regarding your Solunar Tables as a short-cut to a filled creel or a limit bag of game. Regard them rather as a guidepost to the best sport that each day has to offer.

Youth Admits Killing 22-Month Old Child

RENO, Nev., (AP) — Reno police arrested a 15-year-old reform school runaway at a filling station this morning, and say he admitted the slaying Monday of a 22-month-old girl in Los Angeles.

The boy, John Lawrence Larry Miller, was arrested on a tip from a hitchhiker, Police Capt. Daryl Reed said.

Young Miller was being sought in connection with the smothering of Laura Wetzel, daughter of Air Force Capt. and Mrs. Charles W. Wetzel at Rolling Hills Estates near Los Angeles.

AFL-CIO Kicks Out the Large Baker's Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO today suspended the Bakery Workers Union from the federation.

(Related Story on Page 9) AFL-CIO President George Meany said actions of the Bakery Workers executive board constitute "failure and refusal to comply" with an Oct. 25 order of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

The council had ordered the union to clean house or face further, and listed certain specific actions to be taken by today to eliminate what it termed corrupt influences.

In the executive board action which Meany criticized, the union agreed to hold a new convention to elect officers. But it refused to debar President James G. Cross from running for a new term, and to reinstate Curtis R. Sims, ousted secretary-treasurer and opponent of Cross.

Cross refused to bow out of the picture, announcing that he would seek re-election as head of the 142,000-member union.

Michigan Also Hit by Strong Windstorm

By United Press
A wind storm that smashed buildings in Indianapolis and Cleveland swept across lower Michigan today with diminishing velocity. The storm, which began Thursday, was blamed for at least four deaths.

The gale force winds blasted Indiana with the greatest fury, thundering across the central portion of the state with gusts of nearly 70 miles per hour.

The storm also hit Ohio, leaving a trail of damage estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars in its path from Indianapolis to Cleveland.

A warehouse wall collapsed in Indianapolis under the hammering of the high winds, burying a yard foreman in the debris. Rescue workers freed the trapped man and he was reported in good condition at a hospital. Damage to the building was estimated at $100,000.

Several smaller buildings caved in and fallen trees littered Indianapolis streets. A teacher and three children were out by flying glass when the storm blew in the windows at Public School 24.

Numerous injuries were reported across Indiana, but there were no fatalities. Power lines were felled in the Indianapolis area, and widespread damage to buildings and utility lines was reported in nearby counties.

Can You Remember the Days of the Hired Man?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remember the hired man?
A generation ago he began to disappear from the American scene and left a gap in family life that has never quite been filled. There is none to take his place.

The hired man at one time was a neighborhood resource, the poor relation by loyalty but not by blood of a dozen or so families he had adopted.

Any family in the community could ask the hired man to work for them. He generally worked only for the families he chose, join as he was.

His pay was invariably low. Nobody spoiled him with money. Nobody expected to brood over the fact his fate was to brush the dust from the welcome mat and

U. S. Arms for Tunisia Brings French Walkout

PARIS, (AP) — France reacted vigorously today to U. S. and British arms shipment to Tunisia, walking out on a NATO meeting and firing off strong protests to London and Washington.

The token shipment of submachineguns, rifles and ammunition was intended by France's two big NATO allies to keep the North Africa nation from turning to Egypt or the Soviet bloc for arms. But France, fearful the arms will find their way to rebels fighting French rule in neighboring Algeria, was not mollified.

A French spokesman declared the U. S. — British decision was made known "at the precise moment when the French government was preparing the immediate dispatch of military supplies to Tunisia." Tunisia was formerly a French protectorate.

The spokesman said the French delivery had to await completion of negotiations with Tunisia — presumably to insure that the arms did not reach Algerian rebels.

The French — Tunisian negotiations have been hanging fire for weeks. The British-U.S. action appeared intended to spur the French to quick action before the Soviet bloc could move in.

The United States and Britain said they won assurances from Tunisia the weapons would not reach the hands of smugglers who ply the long, sparsely settled Tunisian-Algerian border.

President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia, in a radio speech, hailed the United States for what he called its "role of champion of liberty."

Bourguiba said the U. S. decision to give arms to Tunisia was taken Tuesday and only then did France agree to deliver arms. He said France added an unacceptable condition that Tunisia receive only French arms.

New Career Kit in Use in School Here

Earl Downs, guidance director at Hope High School, announced today that a career guidance kit is available in the school guidance office for the use of students and adults of this area who want information about specific jobs, or about scholarships.

Additional accurate and useful information about jobs will be received by the school each month, from the publishers of the Career Kit, to keep it up-to-date.

Mr. Downs invites parents, out-of-school youth, and other adults to make free use of the Career Kit as a source of accurate and up-to-date information to help solve their job and educational problems. Contact the school counselor.

Rialto Theater Downtown Is Gutted by Fire

Fire of undetermined origin gutted the inside of the Rialto Theater here shortly before midnight last night. There was no estimate of the loss but it is expected to be heavy.

The blaze was discovered by Commodore Knox, Negro janitor, engaged in cleaning up the theater following the showing of a special movie which ended at 11:05.

Knox, engaged in sweeping out, saw the stage curtains flame up and tried to put out the blaze which rapidly went out of control. He ran to a nearby taxi stand which proved to be closed and then ran to the Police Station. However, the alarm was apparently turned in by somebody at the Missouri Pacific Depot.

Firemen said the flame was spreading rapidly when they arrived. Most serious damage was to the stage and seats, which were melted by the intense heat. Smoke damage spread to the J. W. Patterson store next door.

The Rialto, closed for some time had only recently been reopened for weekend shows. Manager Henry Seamans said the "Shop 'N' Show" movies sponsored by local merchants each Saturday free of charge to shoppers will be held at the Saenger.

Mr. Seamans said he could not estimate the damage and didn't know what the company plans were for remodeling.

Moscow Says Dog Laika Suffocated

By ROY ESSOYAN

MOSCOW, (AP) — A Soviet scientist announced today that Laika, the dog in Sputnik II, suffocated when the oxygen regenerative equipment aboard the earth satellite stopped working.

The scientist, Alexei Pokrovsky, told a news conference there never had been any plan to bring Laika back to earth. He said she died peacefully of oxygen deficiency when equipment designed to degenerate oxygen had completed its program.

There had been reports that Laika died of a drug or poison administered with her last food, that the Russians intended to bring her back to earth; and even one report that she had been parachuted back.

Today's news conference apparently was intended to set at rest all reports about the first living thing to get into outer space.

One scientist said yesterday Laika would be immortalized on a plaque near Leningrad honoring Soviet dog heroes of World War II.

Economy Gets Shot in Arm With Rate Dip

By G. K. HODENFIELD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board gave the nation's leveling-off economy an unexpected shot in the arm today by cutting back its discount rates in four sections of the country.

The immediate effect is to make it easier for banks to obtain money for lending to businesses and the general public. And it appeared to herald an easing of tight money policies that have accompanied a two-year business boom.

A spokesman for the Federal Reserve Board said the action was "recognition that inflation, at least temporarily, has ceased to be the dominant factor in the economy."

He emphasized, however, the board's belief that there is no reason for any public alarm that a business recession may lie ahead.

The board announced late yesterday that, effective today, the discount rate would drop from the 2 1/2-year high of 3 1/2 per cent to 3 per cent at the Federal Reserve banks in Atlanta, New York, Richmond and St. Louis. Similar action by the eight other reserve banks is expected soon.

The action came at a time when seasonal demands for money are high. Businessmen and purchasers tend to increase their borrowing as the Christmas shopping season approaches.

The discount rate is the interest which the 12 regional Federal Reserve banks charge their member banks on borrowed funds. Banks borrow from the reserve system when they need extra money to meet the demand for loans. A low discount rate encourages them to borrow in order to make commercial or personal loans, thus helping to keep the economy rolling at a brisk pace.

Wall Street was generally surprised but pleased with the news. It was called "constructive," "stimulating," "forthright and courageous," and recognition by the Federal Reserve Board that "the forces of inflation are receding."

U. S. Court Sets Hearing on Suit to Oust Troops

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals set a hearing for tomorrow on an appeal by a Pro-segregationist seeking a court order against the use of troops at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark.

Mrs. Margaret Jackson, vice president of an organization of pro-segregationist mothers at the school, is appealing from a dismissal of her suit in Federal District Court at Little Rock. She filed suit on behalf of herself and her two children.

The government, in a motion filed yesterday, asked the appellate court to uphold the dismissal by Federal Judge Ronald Davies in District Court. The motion contended the question is now moot since Mrs. Jackson has removed her children from the school.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Little Rock attorney says he will fight a government motion to dismiss an appeal of a suit seeking removal of federal troops from Little Rock Central High School.

Kenneth C. Coffelt filed the suit in behalf of Mrs. Margaret Jackson and her daughters, Charlene and Sandra, former students at Central High who now attend Mabelvale High School near Little Rock.

The action was dismissed by U. S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies of Fargo, N. D., who has handled some Little Rock integration cases on ground that federal court lacked jurisdiction.

Plaintiffs sought appointment of a 3-judge court to hear the suit but Davies held that the complaint presented no substantial federal constitutional question recognizable by such a court.

Coffelt then appealed to the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis asking that the case be remanded to Little Rock for hearing by three judges.

Yesterday, the government filed a motion in the appellate court asking dismissal of the appeal.

A Department of Justice attorney said last night that the government contended there was no issue to be decided.

Donald B. McGuineas, who helped try integration litigation at Little Rock, said at Washington that the government based its claim on an allegation that the case was moot since the two girls no longer attend Central High.

McGuineas said the government

Russia Has a New Parley in Mind

By BOB CONSIDINE

(World Copyright 1957, By INS. Reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

MOSCOW, (INS) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko officially scheduled for the first time today Russia's concept of a new type of summit conference that would include only the Big Four but exclude from opposing sides of the Iron Curtain.

In an hour-long talk with William Randolph Hearst, Jr., editor-in-chief of the Hearst newspapers, the foreign minister ranged confidently through a wide area of subjects.

He stated flatly that the Kulte islands occupied by the Red army in the closing hours of World War II, are an integral part of the territory of the Soviet Union.

He denounced the Soviet demand for an 82-nation permit to the United Nations disarmament body and flatly charged the United States with forcing the small powers to vote against such a proposal.

Presenting a different picture from the dour diplomat America has known through the years, the recently installed foreign minister puffed on a Russian cigarette as he answered amiably but firmly Hearst's questions in his plush paneled office in Moscow's towering foreign ministry.

Also questioning him were Frank Conniff, national editor of the Hearst papers, and this reporter.

Gromyko made it plain that in seeking a new round of top-level conferences, which would bring President Eisenhower and party Chief Nikita Khrushchev face to face, Russia aimed for much broader representation than was the case in Geneva in 1955.

Pressed to name the countries Russia has in mind, the foreign minister said that his country was not yet prepared to name specific nations it wants to see invited to any such conference.

He suggested instead a composition of conferees should be subject to an exchange of views by the Big Four.

The United States has not yet agreed to a summit conference, even one limited to itself, Russia, Britain and France.

If the U.S. and other western powers consent to this new Russian proposal, it could bring about a confrontation involving not only Mr. Eisenhower and Khrushchev, who met cordially in Geneva, but conceivably also Mr. Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Elvis Presley Presents Unique Singing Style and Most Dramatic Role in "Jailhouse Rock"

Elvis Presley plays his longest love scene to date in M-G-M's "Jailhouse Rock," with blonde Jennifer Holden on the receiving end of the kiss. Judy Tyler and Mickey Shaughnessy are others in the cast of the drama with songs.

Elvis Presley, one of the most phenomenal personalities in the history of show business, plays his most dramatic role to date in "Jailhouse Rock," which starts Sunday at the Saenger.

An Avon Production for M-G-M, the new film is Presley's third motion picture, following on "Love Me Tender" and "Loving You."

The new drama, written by Guy Trosper, casts the singing star as a rebellious youth who is sent to the penitentiary when he accidentally kills a man in a barroom fight. His musical talent is fostered in the prison and when he is released he climbs his way to fame and fortune first in night clubs and on records, then in television and, finally, in Hollywood.

Presley sings six new songs in "Jailhouse Rock." They include the title song, "Treat Me Nice," "I Wanna Be Free," "Young and Beautiful," "Don't Leave Me Now," "Baby, I Don't Care" and "One More Day." They run a wide range from rock 'n' roll to romantic songs and a spiritual lament.

From these tunes will come Presley's record hits of the next few months, following such past favorites as "Don't Be Cruel" and "Hound Dog," a record which has sold five-million copies, "All Shook Up" (three-million), "Love Me Tender" (nearly four-million), "Too Much" and "I Want You, I Need You, I Love You" (two-million each).

Playing the feminine lead in "Jailhouse Rock" is Judy Taylor, who scored on Broadway in the Rogers and Hammerstein musical, "Pipe Dream." Also in important roles are Mickey Shaughnessy, the comedy "find" of "Designing Woman" and "Don't Go Near the Water," Dean Jones, M-G-M's fast-rising actor-singer, and Jennifer Holden, glamorous former Chicago model making her movie debut.

"Jailhouse Rock" was produced by Pandro S. Berman, producer of such hits as "Blackboard Jungle," "Tee and Sympathy" and "Something of Value." It was directed by Richard Thorpe, who guided another remarkable singer, Mario Lanza, to fame in "The Great Caruso."

One of the facets that makes "Jailhouse Rock" a "must see" for Presley followers is the fact that it is the first picture to show him in scenes with a crew cut. This arises out of the fact that he is given a prison shear-job in the story. This time it can truly be said that moviegoers will see a "new" Elvis Presley.

Sputnik Fails to Impress South Much

By HELMAN MORIN

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP) — A full moon hung in the sky like a big silver ball over the Great Smoky Mountains the other night. The driver switched off the lights of the bus for a moment and drove easily in the white brilliance.

"Biggest Moon I ever saw," he said. "You suppose it's ours?"

The passengers in the bus laughed. A man said: "I'll bet ours will be twice that big when we get it going." The conversation ended.

When the average man in the South speaks about the Russian satellites at all today — and you don't hear much talk of them — he is more likely to joke than to express anxiety or outright fear.

Sputnik has stirred curiosity, certainly, some awe over the thought of man made objects whirling in space but no great alarm.

For one thing, the military implications apparently are by no means widely understood. At a cigar counter in Gainesville, Fla., a few days ago, a man was saying: "They've got a gadget whizzing around out there somewhere. So what? Are they going to bomb us tomorrow? I don't see the connection."

In Chattanooga, Tenn., a farmer said: "I just don't believe in that stuff. Sounds to me like more Russian propaganda."

A local situation frequently colors the attitude of the people. For instance, in the whole region around the national laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn., one of the centers of atomic research, the man on the street plainly reflects the attitude of scientists and technicians working nearby.

"I'm glad the Russians did it," said a man from Kingsport, Tenn. He went on to say that, in his opinion, American scientists have not been given the unhindered opportunity to develop research projects.

In a curious way, the fact the Russians put a dog inside Sputnik II seems to have impressed people in this region more than the fact that they succeeded in getting the bigger satellite into its orbit.

"Think of that poor dog," said a Gatlinburg housewife. "That's a cruel thing to do."

Sputnik may have contributed to a decline in President Eisenhower's popularity in the South today. "It isn't only Sputnik and Little Rock," says Horace Wells, weekly newspaper publisher in Clinton, Tenn. "It's a lot of other things as well."

Bringing in Adlai Could Limit Debate

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration evidently hopes to limit partisan debate on some major foreign issues by bringing Adlai Stevenson into prepared plans for next month's Allied summit conference in Paris.

The Democratic leader has accepted a bid from the Republican administration to come here next Monday and confer with Secretary of State Dulles. The State Department presumably hopes to have tentative proposals for the NATO meeting worked out by that time.

The invitation to Stevenson and his acceptance were the latest moves in a cautious political and policy negotiation designed to revive bipartisanship in foreign affairs in the face of Russia's gains in military power.

How well the effort will succeed in forestalling sharp party controversy when Congress returns in January depends mainly on two critical factors:

1. The extent to which President Eisenhower and Dulles consult with Stevenson in detail and accept his ideas in shaping their program.

2. The degree of support Stevenson can muster among Democratic leaders in Congress for any plans to which he may decide to commit himself.

Results of the Monday meeting — which could also lead to a talk between Stevenson and Eisenhower — may show clearly how much bipartisanship cooperation is to be expected.

Stevenson himself has clearly reserved his right to criticize any proposals with which he disagrees.

While the issues have not yet all been publicly stated by Eisenhower or Dulles, their main approach is the NATO summit meeting in mid-December makes it clear that they have in mind some radical proposals.

Eisenhower has already declared he would seek changes in the law to permit sharing atomic secrets with Allied nations.

The administration is also expected to ask for an increase in funds available either as loans or grants for aid to foreign countries.

Sunday School Lesson

"We Shall Live Also"
By WILLIAM E. GILROY M.D.

Belief in a future life, in survival after death, has not been confined to those of any race or religion. On the contrary, it may be said to have been almost universal and witnessed by various beliefs and practices, emphasized by ancestor worship, the notion of the souls of the departed living in various animals, and the well known practice of burying with the dead food and the utensils of this earthly life.

But with Christians, life after death has had a very different conception and significance. The conception of death itself is lost in the larger conception of eternal life.

"The gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." (Romans 6:23.) It is the undying nature of the soul through the experience of the new life in Christ.

But this fact and experience has its definite foundation in history in the life, death, and Resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth. The foundation of the experience is in the divine, eternal life of Jesus Himself, and His words to His disciples, "Because I live, ye shall live also." (John 14:19.)

From this standpoint the Resurrection is the very foundation of the Christian faith, though it should not be forgotten that the prior foundation is in the moral and spiritual life of God, and in the God-like life of man.

Eternal life is not marked in terms of duration but in the quality of the living. It is this that lifts the Christian conception of immortality above the mass of superstitions and materialistic ideas and practices concerning survival.

But it is obvious that this Christian conception and belief depends very directly upon belief in the actual Resurrection of Jesus — that He was seen by the disciples, and received their commission from Him, after His crucifixion and burial.

I conceive it possible that one who doubted the Resurrection might live the new life, following the commandments and earthly example of Jesus, but he would unquestionably be cut off from a great, if not the major part of the gospel story in the New Testament.

III of Leesville, La. visited his parents, Lt. Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. S. B. Scott over the weekend.

Oldest U. S. Vet Is 115 Today

HOTSPOT, Tex. (AP) — The oldest living Civil War veteran, Walter Williams celebrates his 115th birthday today listening to the country music of Texas Ruby and Curley Fox.

The entertainers will play "Dixie" and "Cotton-eyed Joe" two tunes requested by the white-haired, bed-ridden Williams.

Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles, Williams was the absence from home of his wife, who died Nov. 2 at the age of 84 of a heart ailment. Williams had not been told of her death, Mrs. Bowles said, because doctors were afraid the news would have a bad effect on him.

Mrs. Bowles said "he's been fretting and worrying about her."

Williams will be propped up in bed for a while during the open house, but Mrs. Bowles said he would not leave the bed or wear the Confederate uniform given him two years ago.

Williams is one of two Civil War veterans still living. The other is 111-year-old John Stalling of Slant, Va.

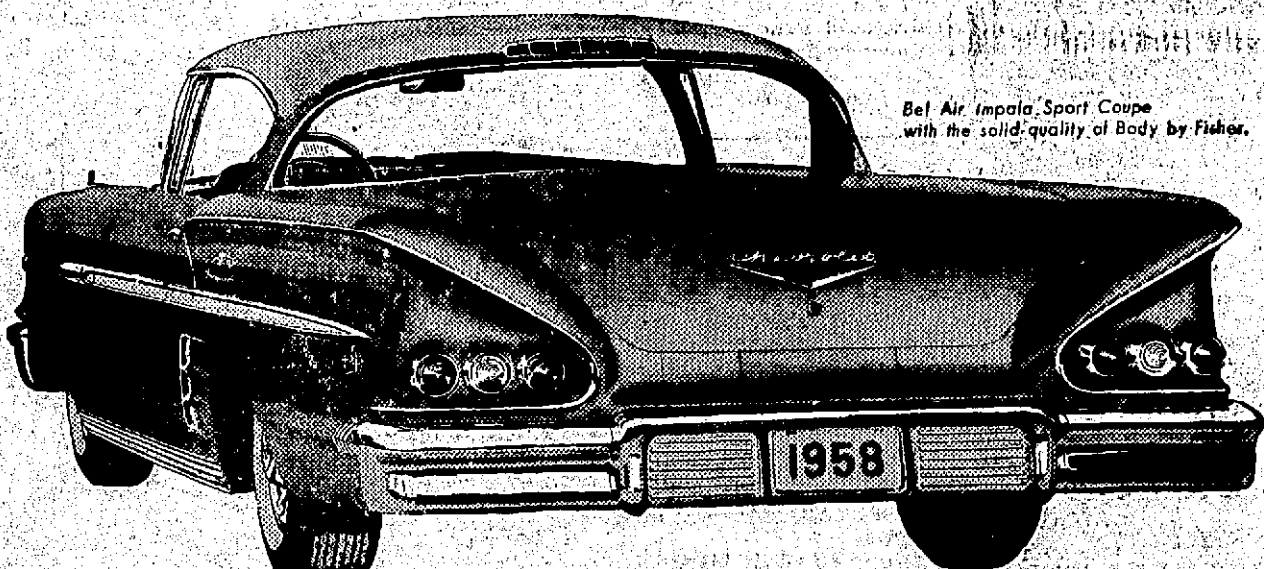

The old soldier was born Nov. 14, 1842 in Hiram County, Miss. He served as a forage master during the Civil War.

The late Dr. Agar Beet, a British churchman, wrote a large book around the contention that as he expressed it, "The Resurrection is the best attested fact in history."

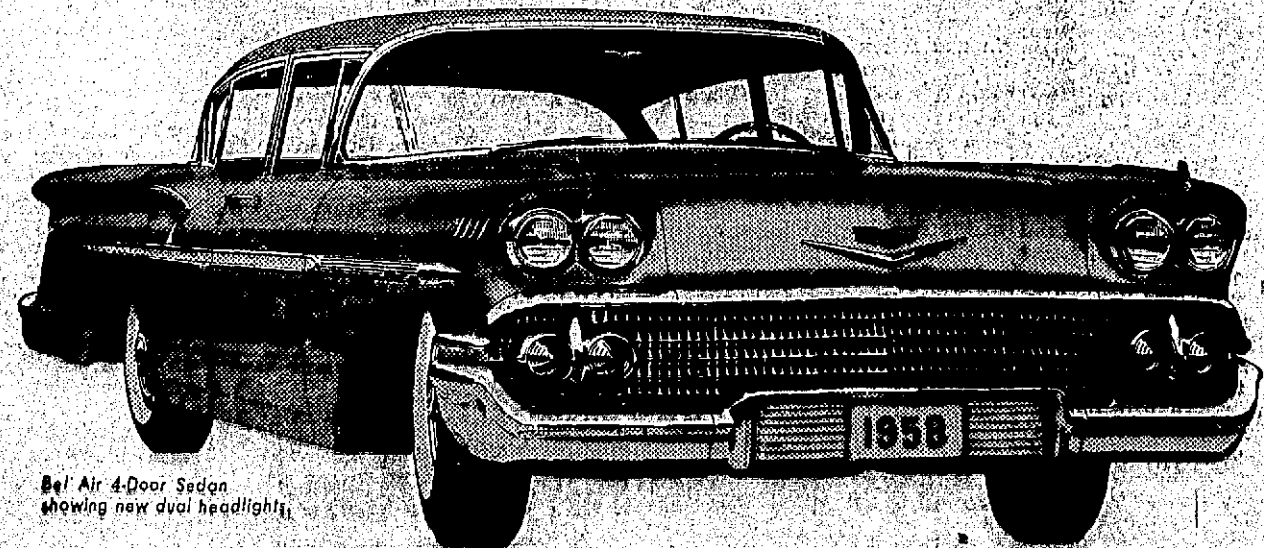

Consider: a band of disciples, who left all and followed Jesus, hoping for an earthly kingdom, were suddenly by His death plunged in disillusionment and despair. It was all over and past. Beet was going back fishing (John 21:3) and the disciples on the way to Emmaus (Luke 24) were evidently broken-hearted. "We trusted that it had been He which should have redeemed Israel."

Then, with amazing suddenness, and with amazing new faith and power, the small group of disciples were aroused and revived and went forth to their conquest of the world. The materialistic historian might question the baldness of Beet's assertion; the miraculous in its very nature and mystery will always lack the directness of purely materialistic cause and effect. But the spiritual reality remains and the disproof of Beet's contention would be very difficult for anything that can be said in rebuttal.

MY PROGRAM

...BUT IS IT ENOUGH? My program consists of some very special activities... services I perform every week. But I ask you, is that enough? Social work, church attendance, tithing of my income, teaching in Sunday school, these things I do, but I ask you... is that enough? God says, no! He expects more than good works. He expects you to surrender your life in full to Him. The sick must be attended. His church must be supported. There is work to be done. These are virtues pleasing to Him but He still expects full surrender of your life. Why not enlist in God's army this very day? Why not start to church regularly and take up your cross and follow Him all the way... then you won't have to ask, "Is My Program Enough?"

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU
Character is a byproduct of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions, stronger democracy, in the church the ministerial and the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church and our choice from a combination for good, be a regular church-goer and a daily Bible reader.

Pork Heads Weekend Meat List

By The Associated Press
Housewives searching for a bargain this weekend are likely to find that pork is the solution to their problem.
Pork loin and pork butt are the cuts most frequently featured.
Pork, incidentally, is the second most popular of the red meats in the United States, according to Department of Agriculture figures.
Beef will be a No. 1 item in a good many stores. Chuck roast and chopped beef are more frequently mentioned than the more expensive cuts such as steak.
Fryers are most expensive this week in some areas, although fowl are featured elsewhere. Eggs, too, are higher by 2 to 4 cents a pound.
Vegetables on the outstanding buy list this week are chertey, escarole cabbage, potatoes and onions. Cabbage is reported a shade higher in price, but still a top bliflow, though higher, is still rated a good buy by produce men. Broccoli is on the high side of a good buy, but other bargains can be found among Idaho potatoes, eggplant, snap beans topped carrots, Pascal celery and brussel sprouts.
Tomatoes are higher this week, putting them in the moderate class. Lettuce reportedly shows a wide range in quality and condition, but prices are a bit lower.
In the fruit department, it's still apples of just about every variety — McIntosh, Cortland, delicious, golden delicious, Rome and Jonathan to name a few.
Citrus fruit from Florida is growing more plentiful every week. Oranges, grapefruit and tangerines are coming to market in ever-increasing numbers.
